A. RESPONSES (R) TO THE QUESTIONS (Q) IN REFERENCE TO ADDENDUM NO. 01 INCLUDING ANY MODIFICATIONS BASED ON THE RESPECTIVE QUESTION(S). SOME SIMILAR QUESTIONS ARE GROUPED AND SIMPLIFIED.

Q1 I was going to print out the specs and CTC for the above mentioned project [Job Order Contract-2013, 2014] but it won’t let me. It says it needs a password of some sort. Can I have those two files sent over via email or what can I do about this case?

R1 The Specs and CTC are proprietary and using them for any purpose other than to execute work is prohibited. There are copyrights on the published books, and the reproduction of those books is a violation of those copyrights. The CDs are protected to deter copying, printing, or redistributing the information. The County will not be providing hardcopies or printable CDs.

Q2 One of our guys was at the meeting yesterday [November 18, 2019] but for some reason he signed up on the wrong sheet, will that be ok to be able to submit a bid, please let me know.

R2 Although it’s preferred each prospective bidder sign in on the sign in sheet for their respective trade of interest, it is acceptable to sign in on any one of the available sign in sheets. It will not impact a contractor’s ability to submit a bid if they signed in on the wrong sheet.

Q3 Why does the specs of “Job Order Contracts - Roofing Services” have other trades in the manual? Can you clarify please.

R3 Each trade may have to refer to spec sections outside of those related directly to their scope, so each bid package has a full set of specs.
